

Sing Your Story: Labor Songwriting Workshop

Sponsored by Old Town Teachers Organization,
Local 909, Illinois Federation of Teachers

Even if you've never written a song, find your voice!

Friday, May 24th

12:30 – 2:00 PM

Sulzer Library Auditorium

4455 N Lincoln Ave, Chicago

Admission: Free

Led by Songwriting Instructors

Charles Kim & Steve Dawson

Known for their clear and encouraging teaching style, Charles & Steve are passionate about helping others discover their creative voice.

This workshop is for YOU, whether you're a seasoned songwriter or just starting out!

Gain the skills to:

- Capture the emotions and stories of working life (or any theme!)
- Craft compelling lyrics, melodies, and chord progressions.
- Build your confidence as a songwriter.

This workshop will explore the rich tradition of labor songs, but the songwriting techniques you learn will apply to ALL genres of music.

Open to all levels! Bring your voice, your stories, and a willingness to create!

Space is limited, so register today!

Register by sending email to otto.reservations@gmail.com Please state date and name of workshop.